APPLE CROP VERY SHORT.

Estimated at 23,500,000 Barrels, Compared with 45,360,000 a Year Ago.

The commercial apple crop is the smallest in a number of years, the New England Homestead will say in its issue of Nov. 4. The shortage is most in evidence in the big surplus states, New York, parts of New England, Michigan and a number of sections in the southwest. The crop for 1905 is estimated at 23,500,000 barrels, compared with 45,360,000 barrels one year ago, and compared with the small yield of 1901, approximating 27,000,000 barrels, and the largest crop on record in 1896, when it approached 70,000,000 barrels. In the great producing sections of the middle and central states, including New York and Michigan, the crop is placed by this authority somewhat less than 2,000,000 barrels, against 20,000,000 barrels one year ago, and figures approaching the last named for two and three years.

The Canteen Again.

The friends of temperance must get ready for another contest in Congress on the canteen issue. A daily paper informs us that "Congress at its next session will be asked to reconsider its action in passing the anti-canteen law." Very well. Let the battle begin. Let the army people produce the imperial (1) testimony of officers and soldiers and interested civilians. Let the appalling record of courts martial be brought forth, and the alarming statistical statements relative to desertions from the army, and the prevalence of all sorts of evil in the ranks, and of course the Woman's Army and Navy League, made up of the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of officers in the service, will insist upon allowing the soldiers to enjoy all the whiskey privileges of which the present law so cruelly deprives them. And as these women are a social force in Washington their voices will be heard and their grievances considered.

But when the fight is opened some other people will be present, and the protest of thousands who will not be present will be heard, too. The restoration of the canteen will be a step backward, and we cannot afford to take it. If the law does not have a fair chance for enforcement, then that chance should be given it. If the soldier is menaced by the presence of low groggeries just outside the reservation, then the government should endeavor to secure the creation of prohibition districts about every military post, not only for the protection of the soldiers from the danger of temptation to drunkenness, but for the toning of the moral life of the entire population of the post. If the officers enjoy privileges of free access to liquors to which the men are equally entitled, and of which they are deprived, then deprive the officers also. Whiskey debauches the soldier, but works worse moral havoc among the officers and their families, as was clearly demonstrated in the recent scandalous Taggart divorce case at Wooster, O. We cordially sympathize with the movement now under way to have the present law made stronger, and to secure its operation against the officers' mess, and to prohibit the use of intoxicating liquors in the homes of officers.

Let the fight begin, and let all good people who hold dear the honor and the reputation of our army go forward with valiant hearts and unyielding purpose.

HE GOT HIS CIGAR.

Sherman Blake Went Ten Miles for It, But Is Happy Now.

Sherman Blake's friends were surprised to see him on the street yesterday, as when he left for his camp a week ago, he said that he would know him no more for a month.

His unexpected appearance is explained by the fact that he ran out of Wadsworth Bros' Chicos, and had to come to C. H. Kendrick & Co.'s drug store to get another box.

As he expressed it, "camping without a Chico to smoke is like lemonade without a lemon, and even though I had to come ten miles to get my cigar, I am happy now." While he said this, he looked the personification of contentment, letting a long whiff of fragrant Havana smoke float upwards.

A Trip to Europe and Return.

One of the leading features of the Masonic fair, Bolster block, Nov. 6 to 11 inclusive, will be a voting contest for a round trip ticket, second class, open to any person residing in Washington county, the officers of Granite Lodge alone excepted, as follows: From Boston, New York or Montreal to Liverpool, Queenstown, Southampton, London, Glasgow, Havre, Antwerp, Naples or Genoa, covering only expenses included in regular ocean ticket and by direct steamers from port to port.

The votes will cost five (5) cents each, and each vote count one (1). Each season ticket gives six votes free, and each single admission one. Other votes will be on sale during the fair. The standing of the candidates will be announced each evening of the fair.

You can begin a canvass for your candidate as soon as you please, and arrange for the vote count one (1). Please understand that the management have no "axes to grind," being only responsible for the success of the fair and they guarantee that precautions will be taken to make the contest absolutely impartial and fair.

A grand chance to aid your friend and give him or her all you could desire for a delightful trip out and back, or a round trip second class passage to suit the successful candidate. The candidate elected chooses their own route.
